

March

From the Classroom of: Mrs. Benjamin, Ms. Sturdivant, and Ms. Jefferson

During March We Will . . .

- Continue to learn that letters are different from numbers.
- Recall main events in different stories.
- Use own experiences to understand story events and expository text.
- Experiment with making words by stringing letters together to look like words.
- Link sounds in words to specific letter names.
- Continue to produce words that rhyme.
- Segment beginning sounds in words.
- Identify some ending sounds
- Recall and identify numbers 1-20 when rote counting.

Helpful Hints and Friendly Tips

- Thank you to our wonderful parents for all that you have contributed toward the learning of your students throughout this school year.
- Please don't forget to continue dressing in layers throughout each day because the weather is continuing to change daily.
- We are now learning about 'The World of Color' Unit 4. Please send in a white t-shirts by 3/10/17.
- We are beginning to read several new books, they are: Dog's Colorful Day, Max's Dragon Shirt, The Lion and the Little Red Bird, Dear Juno, and Cat's Color.
- Please ask your child to share with you our daily activities and the stories that we read throughout each unit.

Classroom Needs & Reminders

-In the past 2 years, we have been very successful in tie-dying our t-shirts. Please make sure you send a white t-shirt. The students will wear these t-shirts at the UniverSoul Circus.

-The cost for the circus is $12 per student. Please send this amount as soon as possible. We will be going to the circus on Friday, March 17th.

-Some parents have misplaced your child's reading log, please make sure that you are recording the books that the children are reading daily. Thank you so much to those parents who are continuing to read FRED books and for the students that have read 100 books or more. Way to go boys and girls!
