

November

From the classroom of: Mrs. Benjamin and Ms. Sturdivant

During November we will. . .

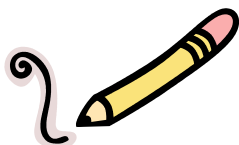

- Continue to improve social and emotional skills with each child.
- Distinguish between what is fiction and nonfiction as we read different stories.
- Begin to understand and explore the importance of 'Friendships.
- Learn more about each other as it pertains to like and dislikes.
- Use different strategies and critical thinking skills when using Venn diagrams, KWL charts, Unit Class Webs, and class graphs.
- Explore in different centers every day as we learn how to make new friends and get along with others.

Helpful hints and friendly tips

- Unit 2 'Friends' begins
- Please review the stories and make conversations and connect with your child daily about what we are learning at school.
- We are learning about the importance of friendships. We have friends and we make friends daily.
- Thank you for attending Parent Teacher Conferences. We had 100% participation. Thank you for your support and participation. We are here to create a warm, inviting, and nurturing environment for our children so that they can become more successful.

Classroom needs and Reminders

- Thanks for a great year so far. If you are able to send soap, tissues, Ziploc gallon bags, and Clorox wipes, we would appreciate it. Thank you for your generosity and kindness throughout this year.
- Continue reading FRED books daily and practicing letters (upper and lowercase) and numbers 1-10.
